

SIREN

THE FIRST 200 YEARS

A knowledge of American history is an invitation to experience the accomplishment, drama, tragedy and hope of an infant nation struggling to grow up. Sturdy, determined pioneers hacked away at the edges of a raw continent and, with blunders and achievements alike, modeled a country with a spirited nature and a united commitment to individual liberty for every one of its citizens. Americans, great and not so great, have given us a heritage to carry on and improve upon. Farmers and soldiers, industrialists and merchants, dreamers and leaders, are all there in two centuries of progress.

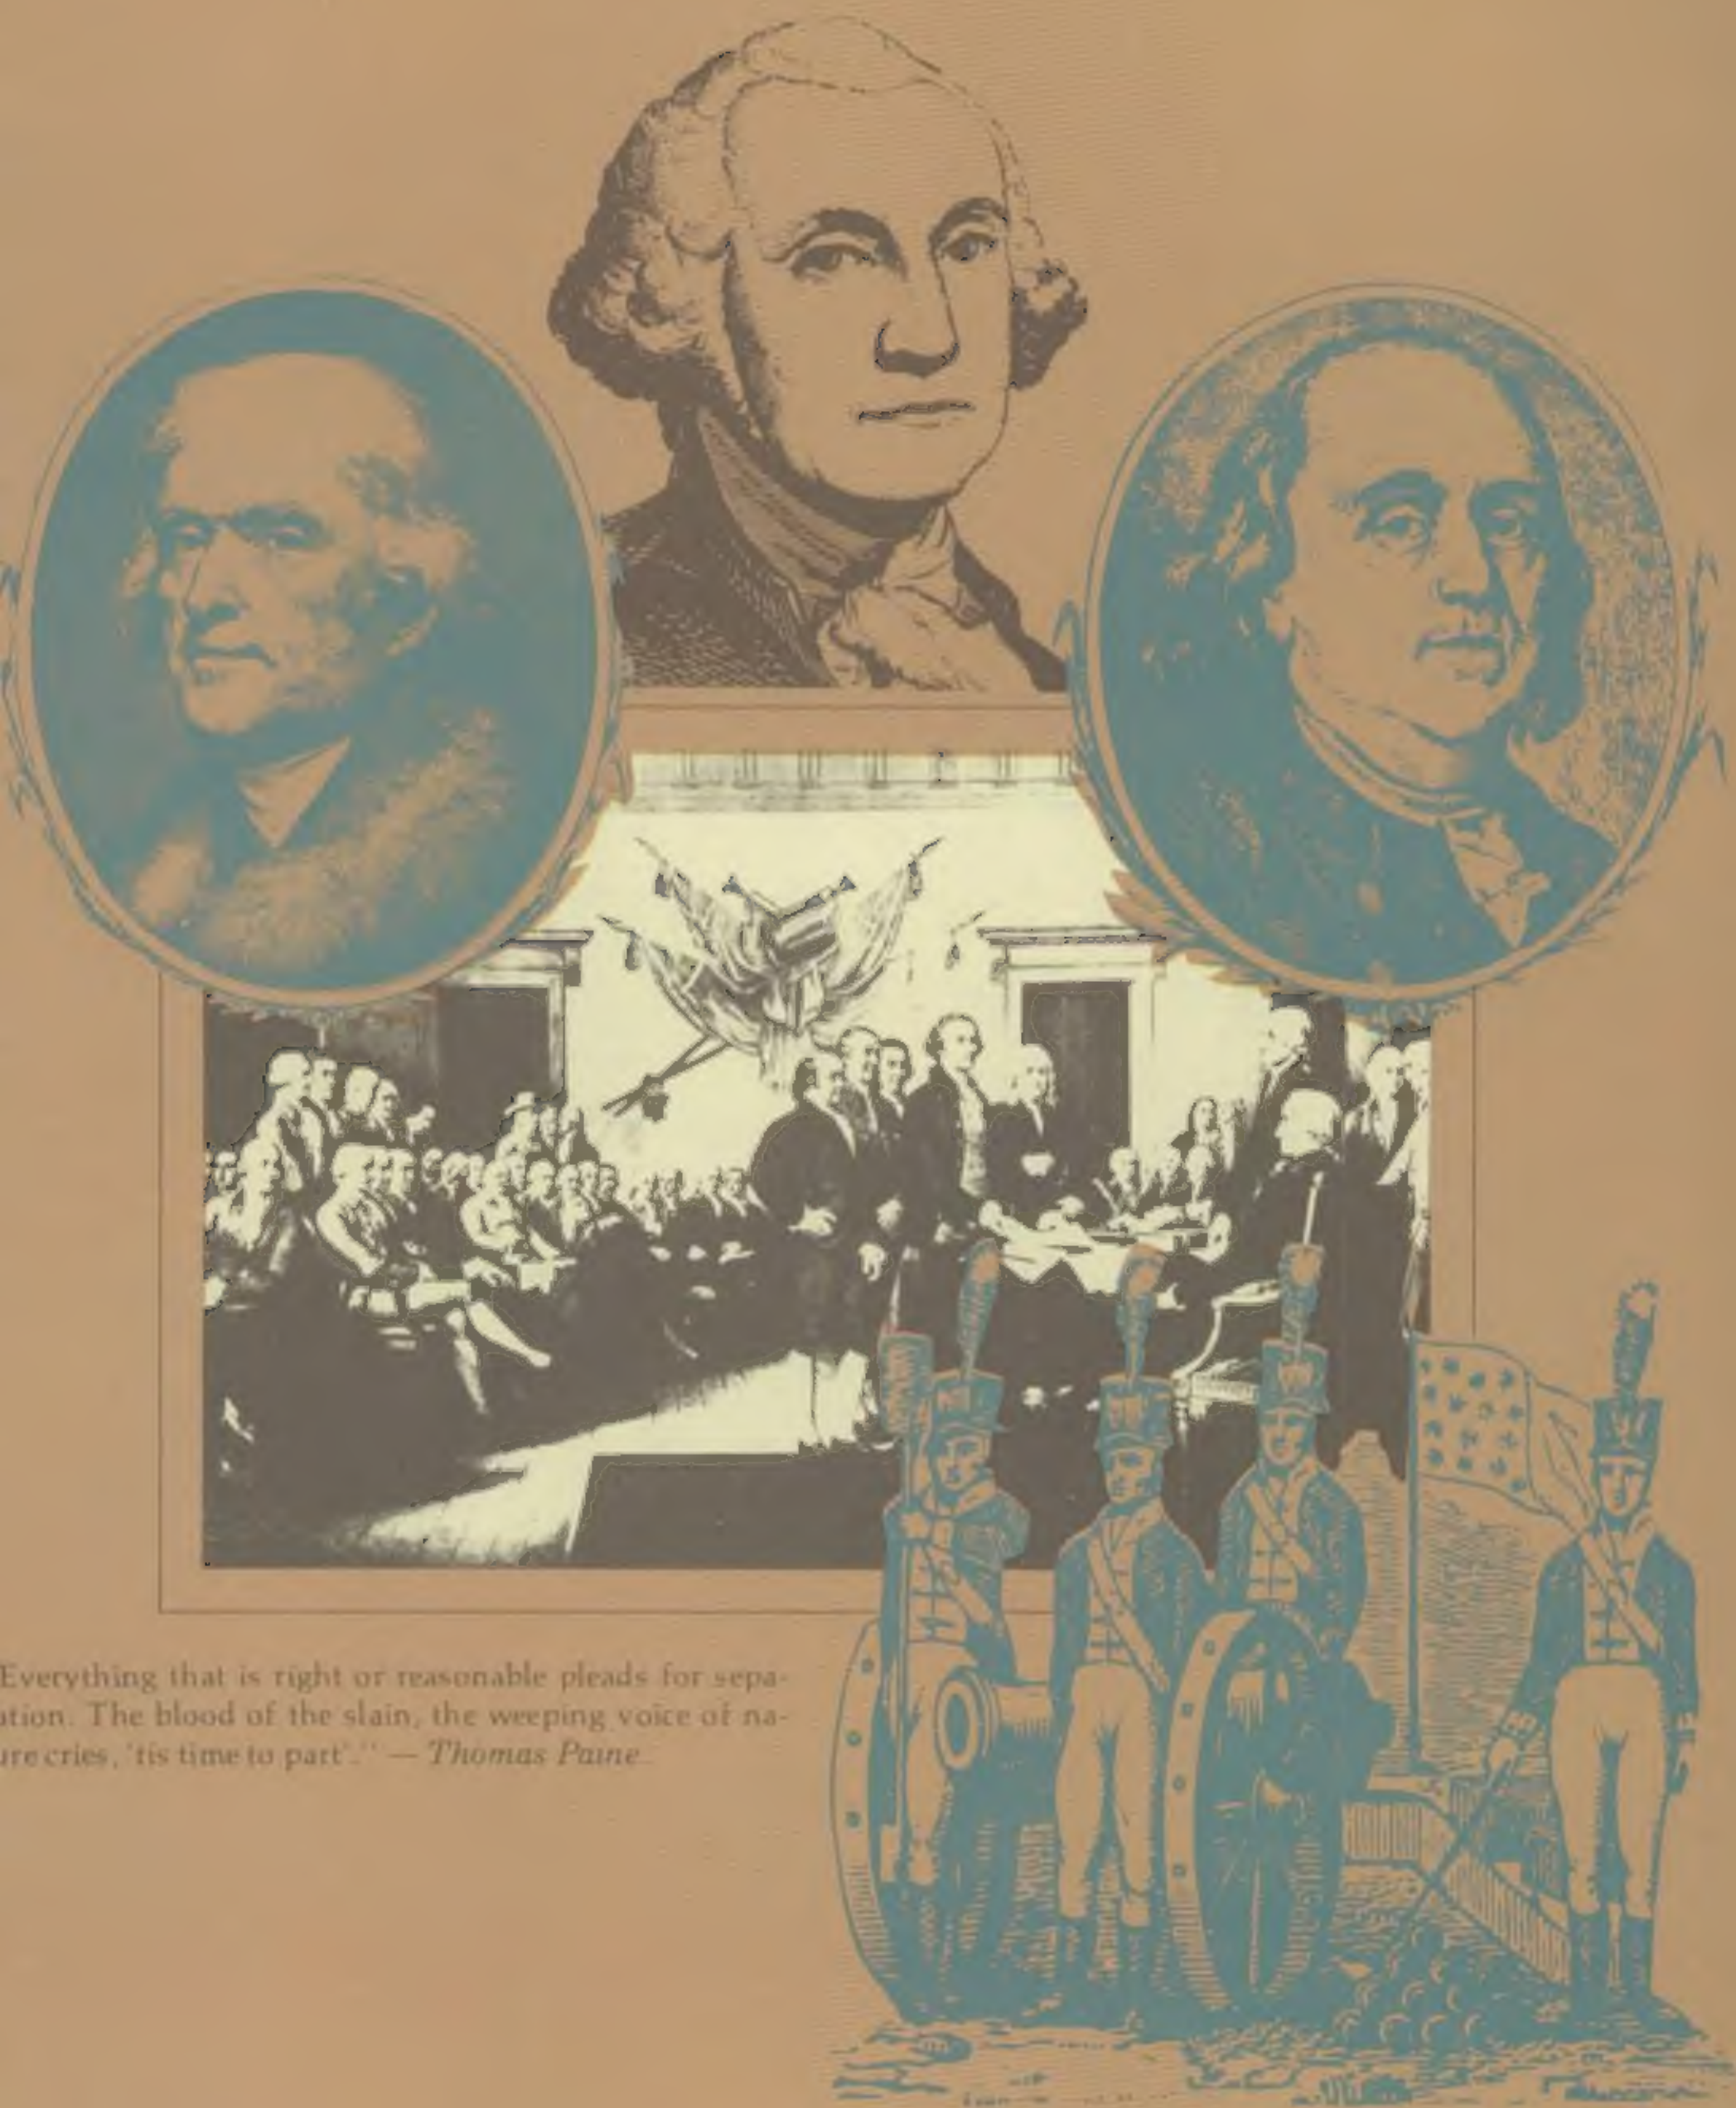

But the maturing isn't finished. You'll find the boundaries of growth as endless today as when our forefathers first envisioned them. You can seek out your own destiny with the wisdom and judgement which comes with re-creation of the past. Your knowledge, dreams and industry will carry on through many more centuries of living history.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the hour of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to declare the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. — We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such has been the perseverance with which they have borne them, that now it becomes necessary for them to declare that they are united to Great Britain, and that they are free, and Independent States, that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. — And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

Everything that is right or reasonable pleads for separation. The blood of the slain, the weeping voice of nature cries, 'tis time to part.' — Thomas Paine

CHAPTERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

The Stamp Act of 1765 was an attempt by England to tax items that were wholly American. The colonists reacted in seething resentment which erupted into angry protestations. The first blood of the American Revolution was spilled during one such incident at Boston in 1770. Several Americans lost their lives over a snowball thrown at a British sentry.

In the fight to achieve commerce equality, the United States found itself in a naval war over shipping lanes. Fort Mifflin was heroically held during a British naval bombardment, and the stars and stripes still flew after a night of hard fighting. The next morning Francis Scott Key penned the immortal words of what would become the national anthem.

Settlers had to have permanent access to the new lands, so canals and bridges were built to carry stages and wagon trains loaded with machinery destined for settlements in the West. The pioneers foresaw great wealth in the cheap acreage that was available.

Pioneersmen cleared the wilderness, built settlements and drove back the Indians. The Pony Express and the telegraph became primary means of communication.

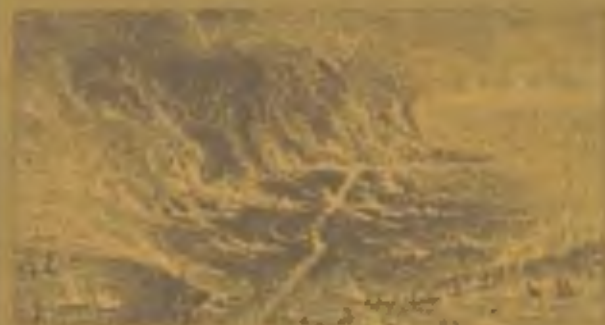

Agriculture was the wealth of the country. American inventions of the time were often related to working the soil. The McCormick Reaper, mowing machines, textile looms and the cotton gin were instrumental in the settling of new frontiers.

In 1848, James W. Wicks found gold in the race of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma, California. The lust to "get rich quick" was the force behind this biggest and grandest gold rush ever.

While gold rush fever gripped the country, states were increasingly more divided on the slavery issue. Civil war broke out in the East. This "Brothers War" was bitterly fought and though the scars remain even today, slavery was abolished.

Cities grew at an alarming pace, often without regard to the limits of safety. The great Chicago fire of 1871 burned the bustling cattle market empire beyond recognition. But the pioneer spirit was not broken. Chicagoans began rebuilding and preparations were underway to celebrate the 100th birthday of the country.

The "Iron Horse," carrying homesteaders, greatly helped settlements of the new country. The first transcontinental railroad connected the country at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869.

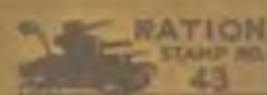

Transportation was setting the pattern for the American way of life. The country became a mobile society with electric trolleys, automobiles, farm machinery, and bicycles, all the rage. Along with the accessibility of travel came a new era of nationalism.

A World War called upon the nation's young men to arms and valor. After the war in Europe, the nation pulled itself together and industry flourished once again. A carefree America bottled war memories in the new moving pictures, telephones, light bulbs, electric generators, stock market ticker tape machines, photographs and a wealth of inventions from the fertile minds of its young inventors. Baseball became the national sport and prohibition was lax.

Black Thursday, October 24, 1929, saw the American stock market crash to the lowest level in history. Panic set in as the unemployment level skyrocketed. The country was in its worst economic crisis. Slowly, but surely, the wounds of the "crash," the "dust bowl," and poverty healed.

The steel industry geared up for the revival while rumors were whispered in the Roosevelt administration of another impending war. The nation's leaders scoffed: until December 7, 1941, Pearl Harbor!

Industrial production reached a peak during the war years. Upon their return from four years of battle, the veterans forged ahead with an eye on a "better life for everyone." Several moderate recessions in the 30's and 40's reminded cautious citizens of past decades.

High strides were being taken in the scientific field. Television became a part of every family's life. National events were household topics — while they happened — thanks to the new medium. Individuals and groups were seen "on the tube" as they advocated new social reforms or justice on special causes of their own. TV gave individuals and political systems power greater than ever before. Audio-visual journalism had made its impact.

Nearly 100 years of struggling for civil liberties were realized when President Lyndon B. Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 into law. The Act outlawed segregation in any form.

The seventies shed light on a new trouble for the nation as it approached its 200th birthday. The world's energy sources and natural resources were being used up faster than they could be replenished. Americans once again reached into a new frontier. The "energy crisis" and "ecology" were prominent words in the lexicon. Ways to save nature from the neglect of mankind and ways of preserving precious fuel without damaging that balance of nature were the objectives of Americans across the country.

Earth's crises spurred Americans into further pioneering. This time — outer space. American astronauts were the first on the surface of the moon and the U.S. was first to build a "sky-lab" for more scientific study.

America is still learning and growing after a mere 200-year infancy. The original determination of our forefathers was told again in the words of Neil Armstrong as he made the first step on the moon — "a small step for man, but a giant step for mankind."

THE CHANGING NATION

Ownership of land had been just a dream to most of the colonists from feudal England. With the great expanse of cheap land opening up in the West, the dream became reality.

The Louisiana Purchase of 1803 opened the first sizable frontier in the Midwest, but the nation was not ready for it yet. It took a growing market in the East, where land was getting high-priced and scarce, and development of good transportation, to really start the frontier movement.

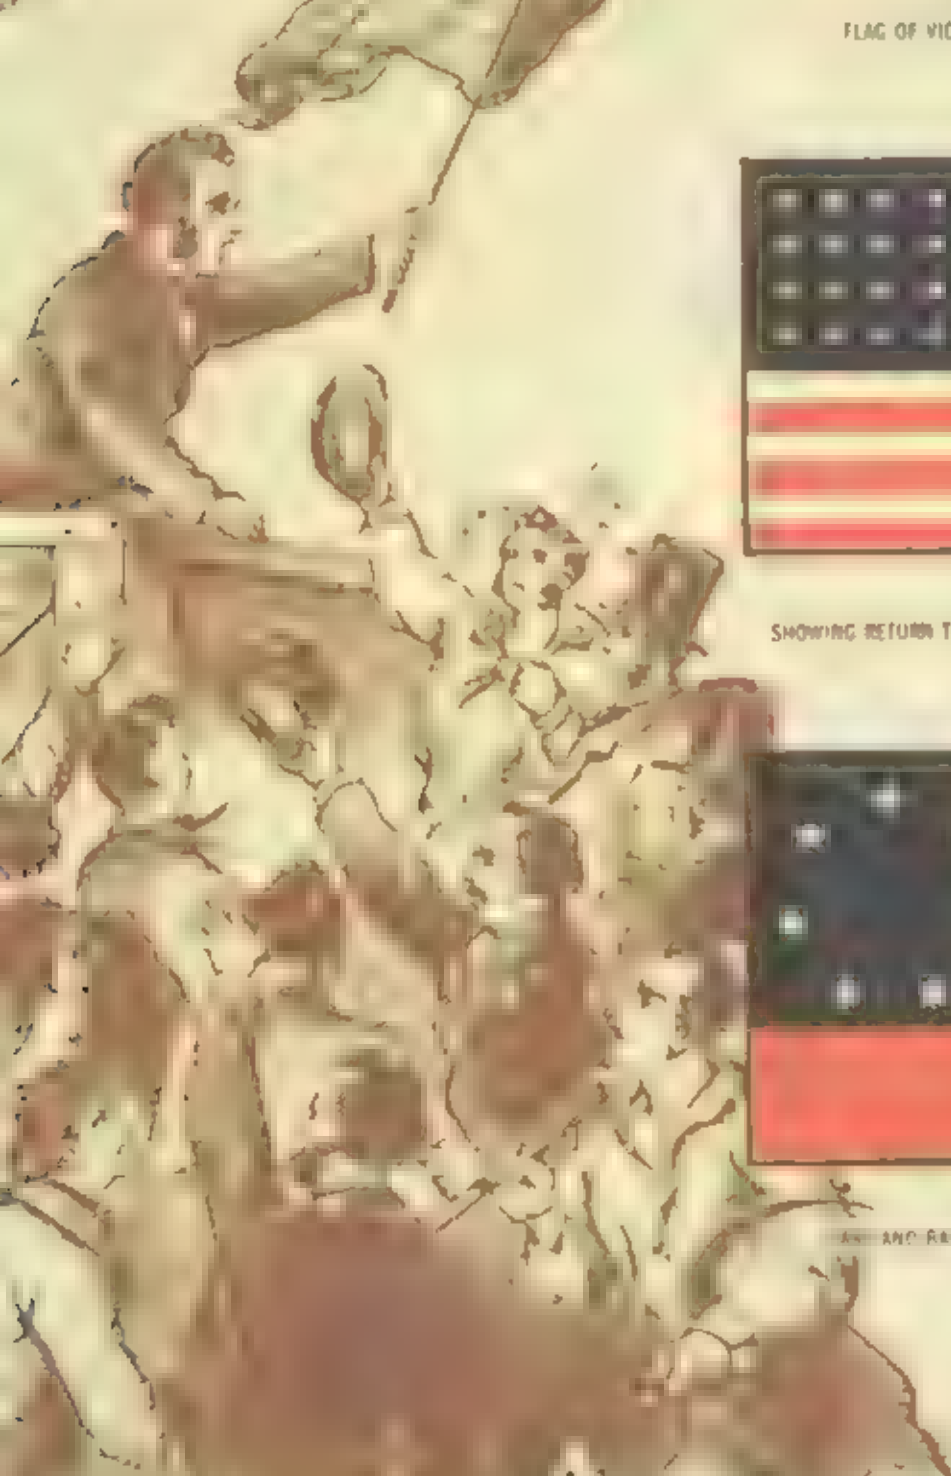

The Gold Rush caused hordes of settlers to take various routes to the Pacific Coast and its yellow riches. The railroads brought farmers and ranchers, along with the miners, who decided to stop all along the routes and build their homes. Railroads were instrumental in the quick civilization of the West, bringing people in numbers so large that the resentful Indians were finally pushed back into unwanted and infertile areas.

America became a haven for immigrants from every nation as freedom beckoned them to the teeming cities of the East, the plains, and the rich west coast farmlands.

Sick of the Civil War and with their own lands divided up and lost, many Southerners set out to "begin again" in the virgin territories. "Westering" soon became the national tradition as North and South moved together toward a new life. Americanism was advanced socially, by the hard-working, bare-fisted types who settled the frontiers.

NECESSITY IS THE MOTHER OF ...

Without realizing it, England instilled in the colonists the individual purpose and ingenuity that necessity breeds. With trade goods cut to a minimum, determined young leaders of the time set out to find ways of surviving without support from the Mother Country

Agricultural methods and machines and labor saving devices were designed by our forefathers. As frontiers opened, Yankee genius had to conquer natural barriers in the wild new country, so suspension bridges were invented and methods of transportation were perfected for the purpose of opening the untamed areas. Later, they sought to section off the land with the revolutionary and controversial invention – barbed wire

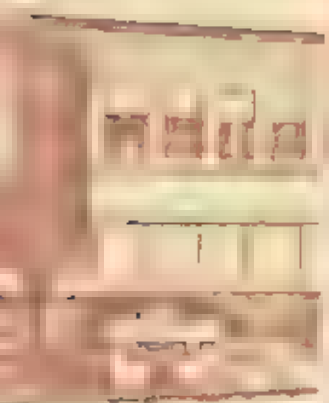

Cooper's 1-horsepower Tom Thumb train in 1830 and later, automobiles like the first Model T, and the 4-horsepower airplane; became American modes of travel from city to city and coast to coast

Americans knew that the fertile lands of this nation would produce unequalled harvests if machines were designed to take over for man. They knew also that trade routes were difficult to travel and manufacturing would have to be done close to home. The cotton gin, textile looms, drill presses and a reaper which could cut six times as much grain as a hand scythe were some of the tools invented

Protection for themselves and for their young country prodded inventors like Eli Whitney to perfect firearms and others to work on plans for the first submarine. Young inventors like Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Edison (called the nation's most valuable citizen) visualized machines that would light the country and open up communication with those in the far corners of the nation. The telephone, telegraph, phonograph and the first light bulb were discovered in the late 1800's and early twentieth century. This American way of doing for oneself inspired many to become inventors in their own right. Some sought to save labor and mass-produce for profit while others envisioned not only riches, but excitement and adventure as they discovered ways to defy nature

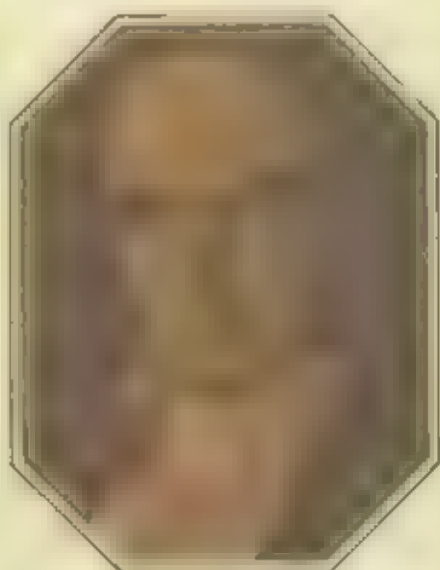

Throughout the past 200 years the American mind has been unleashed to take whatever paths necessary to fulfill the needs. In the last half-century, the pace of discovery has been overwhelming and inventions for the taming of the universe lie in the grasp of America while the habit of "finding a way" is ingrained in its people. The seeds of industrial America were sown by these inventors resulting in today's mechanized society

Imagine buying that acre of land you have spotted for $1.25! Or, even at the higher price of $10. Those are the prices offered to our founding fathers to encourage settlement of the wilderness areas of this nation.

A stage wasn't the most comfortable way to go, but you could get from city to city for as little as $3 — at the amazing pace of six miles per hour.

Compare today's wages with a 12-hour day in the early 1800's. A man earned 50¢ a day. Of course his dollar bought a little more than today's. Butter in 1826 was about 5¢/lb. in the Midwest; eggs, 3¢/doz.; corn 6¢/bu.; wheat, 25¢/bu.; and a cow could be bought for $5.

With travel becoming the American tradition, you could choose train, wagon, horseback or the water. A canal ride with bed and board included averaged 3 or 4¢ per mile. And when you reached your destination, you could sit down to a 5- or even 10-course meal for 25¢ (ladies 20¢, in consideration of appetite).

Farmers in the early 1800's could own the famous McCormick Reaper for a mere $100. But the Civil War increased prices and the machine became the first item farmers could buy on time payments for the sum of $1,500.

A suit of clothes for men and ladies' waists (blouses) were offered for 40¢ to $3.50 with a whole pattern priced at 15¢.

Cookstoves — quality-satisfaction guaranteed — could cost you $29.25 at $4 per month and a dandy heating stove could set you back as much as $5.73 and up. The first electric refrigerator cost $900 — which might be enough to make you faint on your 1907 fainting couch that had cost a mere $7.85.

Your new baby travelled in the height of fashion in a wicker sleeping coach (stroller) for the sum of $12.04. If you had $1,500 in 1903 you could show off in one of the first automobiles.

And those were the days. Some of the present prices are reminiscent of those of the past, but at frontier prices, which were a whole different story. Hardy pioneers had to pay $2 a pound for sugar, too. And the same for a pound of coffee or pepper. Those items were only 15¢ per pound back in civilized St. Louis. Flour was marked up 100 times for sale to the frontiersmen and during the famous Gold Rush, that precious commodity went for $400 a barrel.

DONALD ROGERS

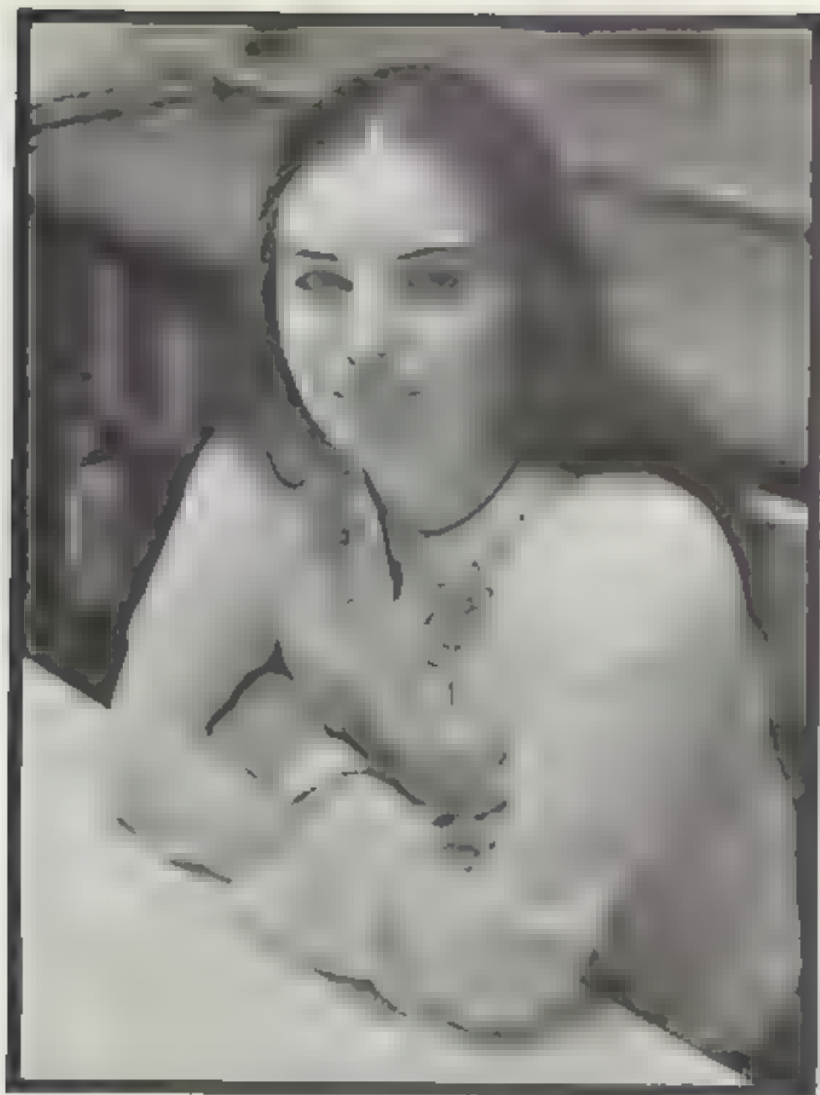

CLASS ADVISOR

It is with deep appreciation that the Class of 1976 dedicate this year's SIREN to Donald Rogers. Mr. Rogers has been our class advisor and one of our closest friends. In all of our dealings with him, from his assisting us during our junior prom to graduation, he has made a lasting impression on us. His institution of Halloween House and his promotion of Toys for Tots us who assisted him. We want you to know that it has given us a deeper meaning of the true spirit of Christmas. To say "thanks" Edward have made an impact on all of us who assisted him. We want you to know that it has given us a deeper meaning of the true spirit of Christmas. To say "thanks" let it suffice to say: a man never to busy to do anything for Fort Edward have made an impact on all of us who assisted him. We want you to know that it has given us a deeper meaning of the true spirit of Christmas. To say "thanks" let it suffice to say: a man never to busy to help us with our problems; never to busy to talk to us; never to busy to do anything for Fort Edward High; never to busy to be our friend; we dedicate this SIREN to you-- Mr. Rogers.

EDITORS' MESSAGE

Each year the Senior Class and the Press Club publish the SIREN with the hope that the yearbook will become a lasting remembrance of your high school years. This year, as we mark the 200th anniversary of our country and the 51st year of the SIREN, we have attempted to illustrate the life and times at Fort Edward High in 1976. Before you turn these pages, we would like to thank all the people who have made this possible: our parents and teachers; our patrons and advertisers; Miss Mulcahy, Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Mullen for some photographs used; Mrs. Crum for her typing expertise; Mr. Brady, our yearbook representative; Mr. Durling for his time and efforts as well as his professional photography; and Mr. LaSarso, our advisor, who encouraged us to make this all a reality. We sincerely hope you have as much fun in looking through this book as we had in putting it together. As you go through these pages, if we bring back one memory or make you chuckle, then we have accomplished our goal.

CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1976 has finally become a reality. It has been four long years filled with success stories and fond memories. To reflect upon the past since our freshmen year, one can see that we, as a class, did accomplish our goals.

Our freshmen year began in September, 1972. The first and only thing we did that year was elect class officers, who were: President, Mary Trainor; Vice-President, Matt Buckley; Secretary, Pat Benware; Treasurer, Peggy Stimpson; Student Council, Cyndie Etu, Denise Linehan and Dave Quattrocchi.

Leaving an uneventful year behind, we began our sophomore year with a little more anticipation of school activities. After we selected the following officers: Dave Quattrocchi, President; Linda Esperti, Vice-President; Mary Forte, Secretary; Peggy Stimpson, Treasurer; Student Council, Joe Gifford, Steve Hubbard, Dave Quattrocchi, Peggy Stimpson, and Linda Esperti, we started some fund raising campaigns. First, we had a bake sale at the Old Fort and then sponsored a dance. Later, in May, we ordered our class rings for an early fall delivery.

After a busy tenth year, we opened our junior year, filled with enthusiasm. Since the home football games came early, our refreshment committee was quite busy making money by selling hot dogs, pepsi, etc., a lot of work but great fun. In October, our rings arrived which excited us all. Later, we had a dance to raise some funds for the prom. Under Mr. Rogers direction, we decorated the gym for "Sound of Silence" as our Junior Prom. The prom was a beautiful evening with exciting moments, highlighted by the crowning of our king and queen, Leonard King and Mary Cantiello. Serving on the Court were: Kathy Bickford, Elaine Castellon, Mary Trainor, Peggy Stimpson, Carol Shores, Debbie Stone, George Conley, John Donahue, John Grogan, Paul Lewza, Stan Maziejka, and Dave Quattrocchi. Serving as busy leaders during this year were: Dave Quattrocchi, President; Linda Esperti, Vice-President; Mary Forte, Secretary; Peggy Stimpson, Treasurer; Student Council, Paul Lewza, Dave Quattrocchi and Linda Esperti.

Finally, for our senior year, we chose as officers: President, Dave Quattrocchi; Vice-President, Paul Lewza; Secretary, Vicki Frawley; Treasurer, Peggy Stimpson; Student Council, Elaine Castellon, John Hogan, Eileen Hay, Paul Lewza, Dave Quattrocchi, and Vicki Frawley. On October 31st, we sponsored a Halloween Dance for the Toys for Tots program. Prizes for the best costumes went to Kathy Bickford, Dean Burdick and Lenny Roberts. Also, we sold some reminder boards to help pay for our caps and gowns. During the winter, we operated the concession stand at basketball games. It was also a lot of work but fun. Plans for the year included the possibility of a senior play and a senior outing. On June 26th, we attended the Alumni Banquet where we were recognized as new members of the association. The next day, on June 27th, we graduated with full ceremonies from Fort Edward High.

As we conclude this chapter of our history, we would like to thank all our teachers and administrators who have assisted us in the past four years. Special thanks go to our advisors who made it all possible: Mr. Rogers, Mr. & Mrs. Stoughton, Mrs. Meron, Mr. Ecker, Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Cooney. It was sure great working with them all during this phase of our education.

TIMES OF YOUR LIFE

Good morning, yesterday;
You wake up and time has slipped away;
And suddenly, it's hard to find the memories you left behind;
Remember? Do you remember
The laughter of the tears;
The shadows of misty yesteryears;
The good times and the bad you've seen
And all the others in between, remember?
Do you remember the times of your life?
Each time for the joy and the sorrow;
Put them away in your mind;
For memories are times you borrow
To spend when you get to tomorrow.

TOMORROW'S MEMORIES

WILL YOU REMEMBER

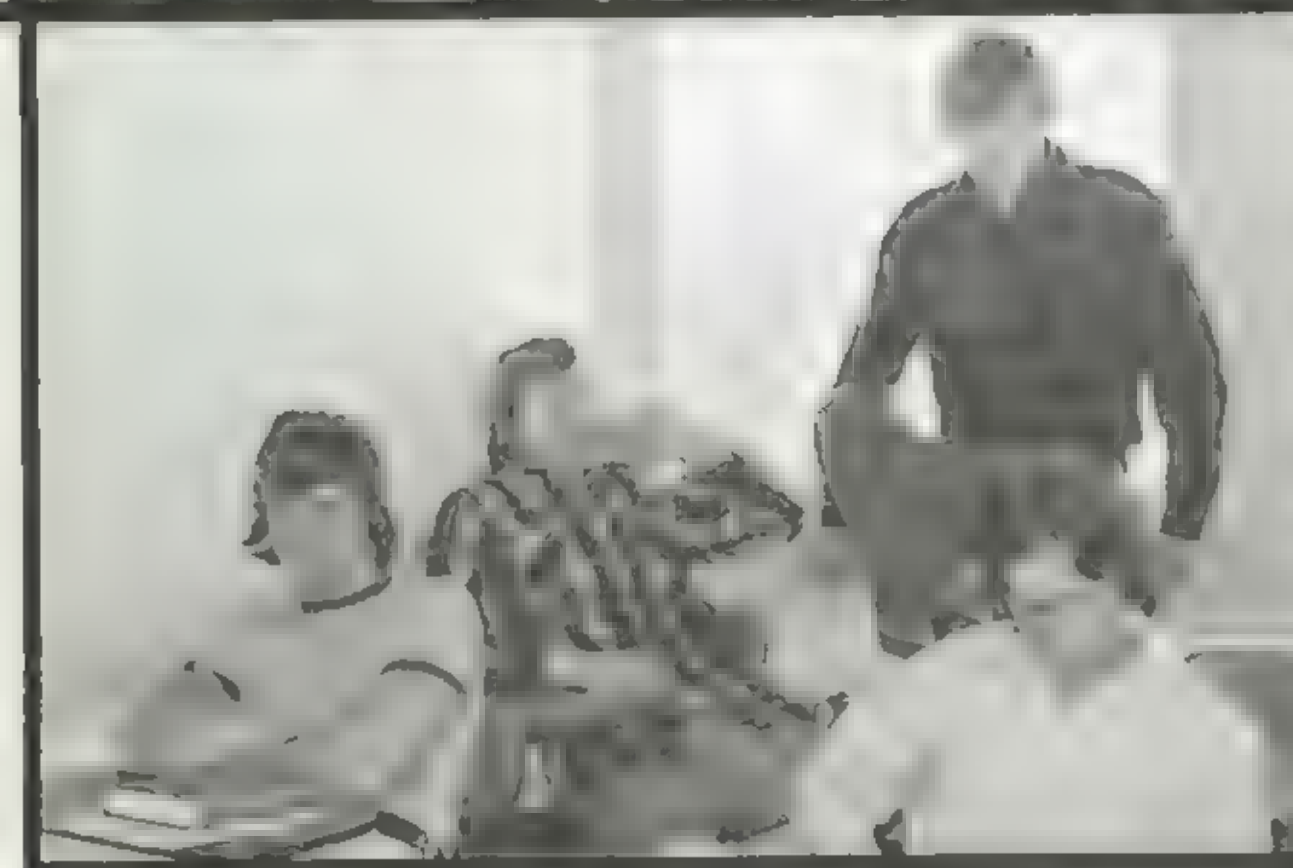

Here comes the setting sun;
The seasons are passing one by one;
So gather moments while you may;
Collect the dreams you
dream today;
Remember? Will you remember?
The times of your life?

FRIENDS WITH YOU

What a friend we have in time;
Gives us children, makes us whine;
Tells us what to take or leave behind;
And the gifts of growing old are the stories to be told
Of the feelings more precious than gold.

I'LL REMEMBER YOU

Friends, I will remember you,
Think of you, pray for you;
And when another day is through
I'll still be friends with you. --JOHN DENVER

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear MARY,

Because you could not attend our class reunion, I thought you would be interested in knowing how successful our classmates have become. I was informed that YOU, NANCY, DENISE, BOBBI, and MARY T. are working for EILEEN H. and CLAIRE at the Fort Hudson Nursing Home. The Class of '76" certainly did well in the nursing field.

I see that some of the staff at the old school have been replaced by some members of our class. JOHN H. has been selected as the new principal with GEORGE as Guidance Counselor. HELENE and ANNE R. are in charge of the cafeteria while CYNDIE has taken over Mr. Rogers's place. VICKI, PAM and PEGGY S. are teaching their own secretarial courses while ANNE C., who founded a new way to spell, is using this method in English class. Also, GINNY is doing very well teaching little children in the elementary school.

It was said during the party that a few of our friends are doing it big in the business world. CAROL, HENRY, and DAVE S. are managing Grand Union stores; MARY C. supervises Clark's; and Mike C. owns the major stock in Sterling Optical. Word is that BENNY is president of Millbrook Bread and CAROLYN owns her own gum factory. Also, DEBBIE E. and PEGGY P. operate their own beauty salon; DEBBIE S. founded and operates "Dial-A Conversation; THERESA manages a Singer store; ELAINE runs a Computer Dating Service; and MIKE E. has his own auto body repair shop.

In the sports field, STAN has a high position with the Lakers and CLINT is the new weight-lifting champion of the U. S. Playing professional basketball are JOHN G. and JOHN D. along with STEVE, who has it made as a NBA referee. Also, after years of practice, TOM C., CHERYL D. and JON are ready to enter the Grand Prix.

Did you know that LEN is an accomplished artist with a display of his works at Crandall Library and that TRINA, a writer, producer and director, has just released her latest award winning movie? Also, in the entertainment field are ROLLIE, the new "Fonzie" in HAPPY DAYS and TOM B., the new Wolfman Jack of radio.

Doing very well are PAUL, a graduate of West Point, who is on his way to becoming a general and LARRY, who just made Master Sergeant in Paul's outfit. In charge of her own clinic is DR. WILSON with her medical secretary, KATHY B., and CHERYL T. in charge of the x-ray department. MARY M. has just completed the blueprints for the next Olympics which will be constructed by PETE and his company. Out in Jellystone National Park in charge of the area are MATT and JOE.

Still in town are PATTY, who is a happy housewife, and BRIAN and JODY, who are still the fire chiefs for the Satt's. CINDY C. and LORI are still around the area looking for a boutique. Word has it that KATHY J. is still traveling around the world.

By the way, if you ever get to Washington, D.C., stop in to see EILEEN L., who is an undercover agent for some secret group, or DAVE Q., who is on his way to becoming the chief of the F. B. I. Also, there is BILL, a noted lawyer who works for the Supreme Court.

It was fun to be home for this occasion and see what our old classmates are doing. I hope you can make the next one. I will if I can get away from the U. N. where I am a Spanish interpreter.

Your classmate,
LINDA

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

Playing under modified rules, the Freshmen football team had a rather disappointing season. Lacking in experience, the young Forts, under Coaches Pete Miles and Jack Toomey, played each game filled with enthusiasm and the spirit of "grit and determination." As the season progressed, the team improved in sportsmanship and in football "know-how." Working under the principle of learning the basics, the Frosh learned some valuable lessons which will be of use to them when they become future varsity stand-outs. We give them credit for a job well done.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Flying Forts amassed a fantastic 5-3 record, tying Granville for third place in the Conference. In spite of the many injuries to key players, the team played inspired football for Coaches Lewza and Terrio. With thirteen seniors, the Forts outplayed and out-spirited many larger teams as they were a constant threat each week. Credit was given to the entire team as well as the reserves who were called upon to make the great play. Regardless of the win or loss, the squad illustrated the "grit and determination" of FEHS.

BASKETBALL

With an 11-7 season, the Forts finished third in the Conference with a 5-5 record and runner-up in the Cambridge Tournament. Outstanding were Duck's and John's game winning baskets; George and Matt off the boards; Joe in the backcourt; Clint, Lee and Tim off the bench; and Stan who did everything until injured. Underrated, the Forts were a threat in each game. A good job done by all.

An outstanding track season found the Forts winning the 1975 Northern Conference Meet. During the year, the team lost two meets by a total of three points—one to Granville and two to Queen-

FALL SPORTS

FALL

Golf was changed from a spring to a fall sport this season. Even though the team had a losing season, Coach Toomey was hopeful that the team gained the needed experience that will help the squad next year. One bright spot on the links was the play of junior Loren Sullivan, who became the team's medalist.

FIELD HOCKEY

Eventhough the hockey team was in its second year of competition and considering the real lack of experience, the hockey team played rather well in compiling a 1-5 record, beating Corinth for its only victory. Regardless of the outcome of the games, the team, under Miss Jetty, gained in the knowledge of the game and in enthusiasm for the game, which will benefit the team next year. In each game, the spirit of FEHS was displayed not only from the seniors on the team but also from the entire team.

Claire Konopka and Peggy
Parker.

The match-up to make a goal.

VARSITY

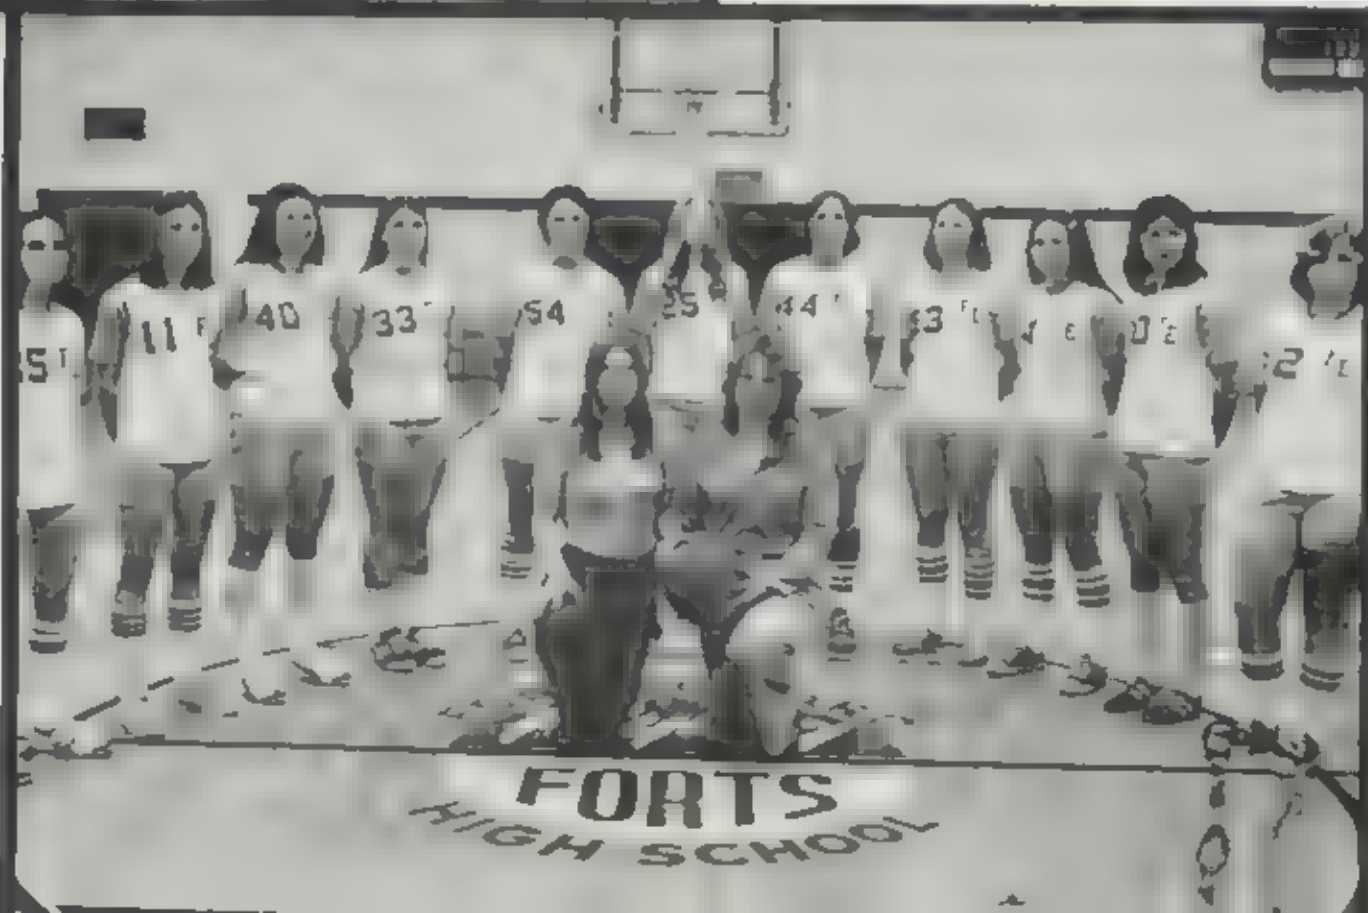

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Playing inspirational basketball, the girls displayed the spirit typical of the Flying Forts. While most of the squad lacked the needed experience to have a winning season, the team did have an overwhelming successful season. All indications, from Miss Jetty's directions, point to a basketball program worthy of notice next season.

Coach Jetty and her "star" seniors, Pam and Bobbi

JUNIOR VARSITY

VOLLEYBALL

Eventhough the team was not successful in winning any games, the team, under Miss Jetty, did show some improvement. With only one senior on the team, the teams look good for a winning season next year.

SOFTBALL

Playing competitively for the first time, the squad had a 1-9 season. Under Mrs. Crum's direction, the team played the game well and showed good team spirit. One of the most exciting moments of the year was the come-from-behind victory over St. Mary's. With a lot of underclassmen on the team, the squad should have a better season in 1976.

SUCCESSFUL SPORTS

Because athletics are an integral part of our school program, FEHS is proud to offer a variety of activities to many students. Eventhough our teams achieved some success this past year, it is more important that the display of spirit and sportsmanship by the players as well as the entire student body represented the school with pride. --RALPH G. SALEM
